THE DAY WE CELEBRATE.

The Fourth of July is the day of all days to the American people. The years come and go, but still the anticipation of this annual celebration inspires in the loyal breast lofty sentiments of patriotism and zeal.

It is characteristic of Americans that they can lay dull care aside upon occasions and enjoy themselves with more genuine relish and abandon than any other people on the face of the globe. So the Fourth of July has always been the greatest day in their lives. Even the poor pauper can enter into the spirit of the occasion and bask in the rays of the Father of Liberty. It is safe to say that freedom will ring from the mountain sides of Flagstaff this Fourth. May the day always be celebrated with patriotic ardor and enthusiasm.

The eagle is spreading his broad wings all over the great Territory of Arizona.

MARY ELLEN LEASE has created a sensation at Wichita, Kas., by appearing in a lurid Syrian bicycle costume. Competent critics say that it is good form in Mary's case.

The libel suit of U. S. Marshal Meade against the Tucson Star proved an unprofitable investment for Mr. Meade. The jury gave Mr. Meade $1 damages whereas he wanted $25,000. The Star can probably pay the $1 but if the judgment had been for the amount claimed the "Star" would have ceased to twinkle.

It is desirable that attention be directed to the fact that Burden, the English cyclist, has covered a mile, flying start, in 1:50 2/5, which is like-wise something of a flying finish. Our view is that American cyclists need only to be apprised of this record to beat it. We must not permit a fat person like John Bull to defeat us on the wheel.

Most people who have never been to Arizona carry a very wrongful impression of the country from a social standpoint. As a matter of fact, there are comparatively few crimes of a serious nature committed in the territory. The report of the city marshal of Flagstaff for the quarter just ended is a very hopeful showing for a town that a few years ago was a frontier settlement and as "wild and woolly" as they make 'em. Such crimes as murder, suicide and burglary are rare on the criminal calendar compared with the list of those political divisions which boast of a much higher civilization.

MORE visitors have been attracted to Flagstaff this summer than any preceding season in the history of the town. This fact is due in a great measure to the advertising the town and surroundings have received and THE SUN may very properly claim considerable credit, for the space it has devoted to Flagstaff, the Grand Canyon and other wonders has unquestionably materially added to the fame of the town and its superior advantages as a place of recreation. These subjects have probably been written of locally more extensively in the past few months than ever before, and when the electric fire is built to the Grand Canyon Flagstaff may be prepared to grow an inch or two every day.

DENNIS DOWD DEAD.

Demise of the Veteran Soldier at Leavenworth, Kas.

Dennis Dowd, the old soldier who recently went to the soldiers' home at Leavenworth, Kas., died at that institution last Thursday, June 27. The deceased was well known throughout Arizona from a long residence in the territory.

He was born in Ireland but came to the United States when a boy, living at Toledo, Ohio. He entered the United States army June 11, 1858, becoming a member of Company B, Second Regiment. He served on the plains and in the war of the rebellion. He was veteranized in Company B, First District of Columbia cavalry, continuing in the service until after the close of the war. Mr. Dowd became a member of Ransom Post No. 4, G. A. R., and was honored and respected by all who knew him. He died of wounds and disease contracted in the service of the United States army during the war of the rebellion. He lived respected and died regretted, at the age of 62 years.

Thanks! Thanks!

On the return of the Editorial Association of Southern California from the Grand Canyon of the Colorado a special committee prepared resolutions of thanks to the A. & P. and Southern California railroad companies, to the Board of Trade, ladies and citizens generally of Flagstaff, to J. W. Thurber, of the Grand Canyon stage line, to J. H. Tolfree, proprietor, and L. H. Tolfree, manager of the Grand Canyon hotel; to Mrs. L. H. Tolfree and daughters, to the S. F. & P. P. & P. railroad company; to H. K. Gregory, assistant general passenger agent of the S. C. R. R.; to F. A. Healey, of the S. F. & P. P.; to the citizens of Phoenix and to the Phoenix Electric Railway Company.

It was also resolved, "That our observation of the magnificent scenery of the territory through which we have passed, our examination of its varied resources and our converse with its people have shown it worthy of hearty commendation."

A Homestead Horse.

Walter Kinsbury stopped at the old town spring to water his horse yesterday afternoon. James Crawford was on the seat, when the horse made a dash down the street. The lines being out of reach Mr. Crawford's only chance for life was to shut his eyes and hold on. The animal perversely took to the high places and the occupant of the wagon was thrown out and severely shaken up. Dr. P. G. Cornish sewed up a split in his scalp, and Mr. Crawford is around again.

The horse stopped in front of the store of his owners, Babbitt Bros.

Mrs. Malaprop's Bad Break.

"Are you the judge of reprobates?" asked a kindly faced old lady as she walked into Judge Layton's office and brought her spectacles to bear upon that dignitary.

"I am the judge of probate," was the reply.

"Well, that's it, I expect," quoth Mrs. Malaprop. "You see, my husband died detested and left me several little infidels and I want to be their executioner."

The judge is recovering.

Big Sheep Shipments.

This morning ten double deckers holding about 3,000 sheep went east. The last train loads of 60,000 sheep consigned to Raton ranges by Messrs. Mack and Oleese, of Mohave county, Arizona, are now in motion. The sheep are said to be from California. This is the largest consignment known to have ever been made here at one time. —Albuquerque Citizen.

J. B. Wilson, 371 Clay St., Sharpshooter, Pa., says he will not be without Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, that it cured his wife, who was threatened with pneumonia, after an attack of "la grippe," when various other remedies and several physicians had done her no good. Robert Barber, of Cooksport, Pa., claims Dr. King's New Discovery has done him more good than anything he ever used for lung trouble. Nothing like it. Try it. Free trial bottles at F. W. Smith & Co.'s drug store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00.

TRILBY BASE BALL.

The First Edition Played at Flagstaff Last Sunday.

The first edition of Trilby base ball, in calfskin cover and binding, was presented on the quarter stretch last Sunday before an unappreciative audience.

The Trilbys, burdened with a stock of Trilby balm, goose oil, hospital splints and all sorts of appliances for the wounded, went over to the ball ground with the fixed determination to administer the first defeat of the season to the Flagstaffs, and they did so. It was a crushing blow to the members of the hitherto invincible home team. One couldn't tell whether they were trying to play croquet or base ball, so rattled did they become. Sliker, arrayed in a pair of vivid red stockings and his winning smile, went into the box for the Flagstaffs. His winning smile couldn't win the game, however, notwithstanding the fact that the home team had ten men and the umpire on their side. With their little Trilby bats the Trilbys punished his delivery for home runs, three baggers and two-base hits until Sliker was glad to retire in favor of Frantz, the renowned southpaw. That stopped the run-getting, but the Trilbys had too overwhelming a lead to overcome.

The Trilbys sprung a surprise on their opponents when Cannon Ball Harry Hibben appeared in the box. The batters couldn't touch his delivery with fishing rods and he held them down to two little scratch hits. The game was too easy and he gave Madden an opportunity to strike out the heavy batters during the latter part of the game. Sparling and Edwards attempted to umpire the game, with indifferent success. Wells Payne, official scorer for the Trilbys, was unable to score every run, they came in so fast, but the Trilbys were at least 20 tallies ahead when the book was closed on the last chapter.

AROUND ARIZONA.

Henry Willman, miner, was blown to pieces in a premature explosion in the United Verde copper mines at Jerome.

According to the reports from the different settlements in Apache county, there will be more grain raised this year than for several years past.

Joseph Walker died at Prescott in terrible agony. A blow fly got in his nose while he was laid up with a dislocated ankle on a cow range in the Kirkland valley. The worms increased and kept dropping from his nose and mouth and finally reached his brain.

A big ostrich at the ostrich farm killed a 2-year old colt a few days ago. The bird was setting, when a band of horses broke through the fence. A fight ensued, during which the old male bird struck so wickedly that the colt was killed almost instantly. —Arilanan.

An amusement with Phoenix youths is to catch grasshoppers and release them in the presence of the insect-eating king birds. The birds never fail to capture the 'hoppers. Recently two birds went after the same insect and they collided. One dropped dead from the blow.

The burro is a very patient body. He will wait for seven days until a line of newly washed clothes are hung out to chew up a man's sock or the frills off a lace night shirt. Handsome lace is his favorite, however, and when he sees a garment bearing this luxury a tin can has no more charms for him until he has digested the 'lace. —Arizona
